... Bus Rides

The Board two weeks ago that it was unsafe for the youngsters to walk along the bustling thoroughfare.

The children also had no protection from possible molesters, they claimed.

A committee of three, Leonard Chanda, James Orr and White, working with Mock, investigated bus schedules and found out that present equipment could be utilized with no additional expense. Buses were running to locations just east of the problem area.

Board president John A. Shidler conducted a 65-minute debate on the question before bringing it to a vote.

Some board members thought the move would break down a policy of the school which permitted only children living 1½ miles or more to be transported.

Closest child in the No. Torrance area is Gertrude McCracken, 1721 Arlington Ave., who is 6 years old.

Councilman Willys Blount said that he did not see that the issue was that of policy, but one of common sense, as empty buses were traveling near the 166th St. areas.

Two weeks ago, the Board agreed to ask for bids for two new buses, to be delivered in July or August to help remedy the over-all child transportation problem.

Board members are considering working with the City Council in an attempt to have more sidewalks installed throughout the city. Such a measure would reduce greatly the need for bus hauling, it was said.

Other actions taken by the board included the hiring of new personnel, John Ballwanz and John Olinger, custodians, Mary E. Chandler and Jim E. Wilkoms, elementary teachers, and the approving of the resignation of Mary S. Squire, teacher.

Funeral services for August Frank Butz, 56, of 24969 S. Normandie Ave., were held this week at Stone and Myers Chapel.

Mr. Butz, a resident here for one year, had been a carpenter for 19 years. He was a native of North Dakota.

The Rev. C. J. England, First Christian Church, officiated at the services. Interment followed at Pacific Crest Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; sons, Kenneth, 2092 Middlebrook Ave., and William, 2309 Lomita Blvd.; a daughter, Betty L. Gagen, Torrance; two brothers and a sister.

Maurice Payne and Dick Arment left to join the Air Force in Texas last week.

Last Wednesday night Mrs. Garver, the Girls League advisor, and the following persons, Louise, co-conductor, entertained the Girls League Cabinet for the purpose of planning the activities for the coming semester. Those attending were Beth Jenkins, Marica Wright, Jo Ann Benard, and Marian McDonald.

Old and new GAA cabinets spent the week-end at Big Bear with Mrs. Doris Avis, Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Wedberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Lopez. After a wonderful week-end of snow, Arlene Smart, Joan Stephens, Sandy Sanders, Pat Garrison, Mary Sue Easley, Jo Ann Courdway, Barbara Comerski, Marian McDonald, Marica Wright, Jeanette Lopez, Ann Stephens, and Charlene Grace, were all set to go again.

Neil Schwab, Bill Gray and Jimmy Murphy came up Sunday and spent the day lugging

How Are Your Sacroiliacs?

According to official statistics, sacroiliac strain ranks third among compensable injuries. The importance of the sacroiliac joints is a very recent discovery, although these joints are as old as the human race.

Dr. L. J. Steinbach, of Pittsburgh, in a recent issue of the National Chiropractic Journal, declared:

"Twenty years ago, the sacroiliac joints were still buried in the archives of human biology. Today, the public is on speaking terms with the sacroiliac joints; in fact, these joints are more mentioned or inquired about than any articulations of the human framework."

These two joints, situated where the base of the spine joins the large hip bones, can be, and are, the seat of much pain. Whether you call it lumbago, rheumatism, or just plain backache, much of the pain felt in the lower part of the back is the result of sacroiliac strain. At one time or another you may have been a victim of this painful condition yourself. If you have, you know how helpless and miserable one can be as a result of too much strain on a sacroiliac joint.

The onset of this painful malady may be brought about in any one of dozens of ways—a slip in the bathtub, or on a waxed floor, or an icy sidewalk; a strain from lifting, from working too long in a stooped position, or even from pulling a shoe or getting out of bed.

Any persistent or recurring aches in the lower limbs may suggest possible sacroiliac trouble, and should be referred to a chiropractic specialist for correction. Health Chats sponsored by R. A. LARSON, D.C., Ph.C., 1110 Sartori Ave., Torrance. Phone a shoe or getting out of bed.
